Modal "Would" for Polite Requests

Structure & Forms

Structure: Subject + would + base verb

Affirmative: I/You/He/She/We/They would like...

Negative: I wouldn't like...

Question: Would you like...?

Contraction & Examples

would = 'd → "I would like" = "I'd like"

I'd like a table for two, please.

She'd like the chicken dish.

Would you like to see the dessert menu?

I wouldn't like anything else, thank you.

Key Point

Key Point: "Would" makes requests sound polite and respectful — always use it in restaurants!

Ordering Food — “I’d like to…” / “Can I have…?”

Two Main Structures

1. “I’d like to…” / “I'd like + noun”
   - Form: I’d like + noun / I’d like to + verb
   - Use: Polite, slightly more formal
   - Examples:
     - I’d like the grilled chicken, please.
     - I’d like to order the pasta.
     - I’d like a glass of water.

2. “Can I have…?”
   - Form: Can I have + noun?
   - Use: Direct, common in everyday speech
   - Examples:
     - Can I have the menu, please?
     - Can I have a table for three?
     - Can I have the bill?

Comparison Table

Context	More Formal (“I'd like…”)	Everyday (“Can I have…?”)
Order food	I'd like the steak.	Can I have the steak?
Ask for water	I'd like some water.	Can I have some water?
Request bill	I'd like the bill.	Can I have the bill?

Restaurant Roles — Waiter vs Customer

The Waiter says:

- Good evening! Do you have a reservation?
- Right this way, please.
- Are you ready to order?
- What would you like to start with?
- Would you like any dessert?
- Can I get you anything else?
- Here is your bill.
- Enjoy your meal!

The Customer says:

- I have a reservation for [name].
- A table for two, please.
- Can I see the menu?
- I'd like to order the pasta.
- Can I have the bill, please?
- This dish is delicious!
- Could we have a little more time?
- Thank you, it was wonderful!
